MALDEF has an annual legal essay contest – “instituted to encourage a sustained interest in serious, scholarly legal research in areas of civil rights that directly affect the Chicano community”

$300 awarded to the Chicano law student who submits the most creative, original and scholarly academic research paper about Chicano civil or constitutional rights; additional option is a full-time law clerk position with MALDEF through the summer

1978 essay contest winner: Hilarion A. Martinez, Holland Law Center, U. of Florida
